1.0 Executive Summary

The purpose of this business plan is to showcase the ongoing development and expansion of a property rehabilitation firm based in Dallas, Texas. Deutsch Renovation Group LLC (“the Company”) was founded this year by Matthew Deutsch. The Company intends to commence revenue generating operations starting in the second quarter of next year. At this time, the Company is seeking a $500,000 revolving credit facility that will allow the business to acquire properties that are in need of renovation which will ultimately be sold or rented upon their completion.

Operations

The primary revenue generating aspect of Deutsch Renovation Group’s operations will come from the ongoing purchase of properties that need to undergo a moderate degree of renovation in order to make them into an exceptional living space. The business will also acquire properties that are in need of modernization on a cosmetic level. The pricing for the completed units will typically range from $350,000 to $600,000. The Company will achieve substantial contribution margins on each sale.

From time to time, the Company may hold a completed property in its portfolio with the intent to rent it to an individual or a family. This will produce highly passive streams of revenue for the business. The Company may also directly acquire properties that are in rental condition to add to the business’ portfolio.

The third section of this fix and flip business plan will further document operations.

The Financing

As noted above, the Company is currently seeking a $500,000 credit facility which will be complemented by Matthew Deutsch’s contribution of $200,000. The entirety of the Company’s debt financing will be used directly for the acquisition of properties that will undergo the property renovation process.

As the Company expands its operations, management may expand its line of credit in order to take on larger property renovation/rehabilitation engagements. There is also a possibility that the Company may expand its operations to include general contracting services.

The Future

Management intends to reinvest a significant portion of its after-tax profits into the acquisition of properties that can undergo the renovation process. The Company may also expand its operations to include general contracting services as the business will directly employ staff in regards to fix and flip operations. This could be a substantial secondary stream of revenue for the business in the coming years.

The Company has a highly defined program that will allow the business to acquire properties that are in reasonably good condition, but do require a moderate degree of renovation. This will substantially increase the value of the property upon completion.

Once the property has been fully renovated, the Company will use a number of marketing strategies to sell the unit to a third-party. This will include direct advertisement within the greater Dallas area well also retaining real estate brokerages that will place qualified buyers with the business.

In some instances, the Company will work with subcontractors as it relates to electrical systems, the installation of HVAC systems, as well as certain components of the property's plumbing systems. This is a more cost-effective way of completing the renovation.

Moving forward, the Company will maintain a moderate portfolio of properties that are specific for passive income generation. Occasionally, the business will retain properties that have undergone the renovation process in order to produce this type of income. This will be a more modest aspect of the Company's operations. The Company will enjoy capital appreciation on properties that are held within the portfolio.
